British "Terrier" Downed This Raider

It was a British Spitfire "Terrier" that got on the tail of this German Messerschmitt 109 and caused it to crash on British soil. But even so the invading plane was not yet done with Terriers. This one is named Doodle, and is making his head from the plane after landing the damage that his nameake had wrought.

Large Oil Refineries Forced To Close As a Result of Systematic Attacks By British Planes

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, Oct. 23.—(UPI)—Systematic Royal Air Force attacks on Germany have affected 20 per cent of the total productive capacity of Germany, the air ministry said today, quoting well informed foreign industrialists.

The ministry said that large oil refineries in the Neuhof district of Hamburg had been forced to close as a result of constant bombing by the R.A.F.

Tokyo Urges Strong Action To Secure East Indies Materials

By H. O. THOMPSON

TOKYO, Oct. 23.—(UPI)—Prime Minister Kamekura, reactionary executive member of the new throne ascension society, urged in a radio speech today that Japan take decisive steps in her relations with the Netherlands East Indies while Britain and the United States are unable to act.

"This is no time to look on the question of the Netherlands East Indies with folded arms," Kamekura said. "Although Britain and the United States are unable to take action in connection with the Indies, Japan is powerful enough to take action if necessary."

Kamekura's speech coincided with reports to Tokyo of minister of commerce and industry Shigenobu Kishi, who has been negotiating in London.

Axis Demands To Enter War Causes Fight

Future Of Vichy Believed Hanging In Balance As Vice-Premier Pierre Laval Confers With Hitler

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 23.—(UPI)—Well-informed sources here expressed the opinion today that the future of Vichy, France, apparently hinges on the outcome of a violent battle inside the Petain-Laval government over whether to let what remains of the French war fleet "collaborate" with the Axis powers in the war against Britain.

This opinion was based on reports from Berlin and Rome reaching unofficial sources here. Such "collaboration," according to these reports, would be the price France would have to pay for a "peace settlement."

The battle lines were clearly drawn at Vichy today, following a cabinet meeting last night and the conference of Vice-Premier Pierre Laval with Hitler somewhere in France, presumably Paris.

Laval and Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin, these sources said, have argued that the only hope is to get a peace settlement now, when the Axis powers would be comparatively mild due to the desire of the axis to get the French navy's help in the Mediterranean.

German Bases On Wide Front Are Battered

Month and a Half of Bombing By R.A.F. Smashes Concentrated Effort To Invade Britain

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(UPI)—A month and a half of day and night bombing of German bases, a 2,000-mile front was officially disclosed tonight to have smashed a concentrated German attempt to invade Britain.

First details of the German preparations to invade Britain simultaneously by sea and air were described by the air ministry news service in reports to pilots who carried out flight after flight, first observing and then bombing.

Even now the story can only be told in part, the Air Ministry service said.

The Message To France

It would be interesting to know how many people in France listened on Monday to the message of good cheer broadcast there by Prime Minister Churchill. Those who did so at the risk of being sent to prison or to a Nazi concentration camp which in a good many persons has been a sentence to torture and death.

Frenchmen are forbidden to listen to British broadcasts while they live in the area occupied by Nazi troops or in that fraction where a puppet cabinet of renegades enforces the Nazi line. Despite this, they are probably not enough present in France and compounds in Germany to help the millions of French men and women who in attic and cellar and other out-of-the-way places tuned in on the words of hope and courage which came from London.

No response to this message is to be expected, for there is no time. Anything in the way of responsive action is for the time out of the question. Any open expression of public sentiment is liable to have the French press as now as subservient to the Führer's will as the press of Germany. Any Frenchman will run great danger of punishment if he even attempts to let London know the broadcast was received, by letter or by telegram and the German police has not agreed there as in every other occupied country, and we bet the person who incurs its vengeance.

The day France's reconstruction will come, perhaps soon, perhaps long delayed. Not all the brutalities of its masters and the enraging of Vichy can efface the love of freedom in the hearts of the French people. Mr. Churchill did not give them assurance that their friends have not forsaken them, but that they have not been forsaken. Words will help to fortify them against their present distress and to keep alive their hope for the day of deliverance.

Isolationism Is Dead

As they watch the progress of the campaign in the United States, Canadian observers must be profoundly thankful for the news. Neither of the two men who are possible winners of the race for the presidency is doing any thing to ignore or trifle with the issue. As for the pro-Nazi vote and there is such a vote, though of uncertain proportions—nothing is leaving anyone room to support it.

Between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wilkie the issue is not whether the United States shall go on giving British material support, but only how this is to be given and in what manner. Whichever wins, United States will continue to give more to the Atlantic, and in amounts as large as can be spared. And this matter of the attitude of the United States toward the British and her allies are making for the preservation of world democracy is the biggest issue in the campaign.

To Canadians this is not remarkable in itself, for to us the issue has been clear from the outset as one which no democratic country could afford to ignore or trifle with. But it is remarkable if one recalls how strong was isolationist sentiment in the United States a little more than a year ago. Then Roosevelt had a hard fight to get the neutrality law changed so as to permit material to be sent to the United Kingdom. Even as late as last June the Republic Committee was as non-committal as it could think how to be on the subject of supplying munitions to Britain.

There is no parallel in modern history at least for the change that has swept the people of the United States from a policy of isolation to one of only nominal neutrality. Their hearts and hopes and prayers are for Britain and its allies, and they are too numerous enough to emphasize the point. Whoever is to be the next President is bound to be the next President. The handsy pledged "to the hilt" to keep the planes and guns and ammunition going to the forces which are fighting for freedom.

Defense Comes First

The International Highway Commission is reported in Ottawa dispatches to have decided upon "A" route as being the best for the proposed highway to Alaska, though the most difficult of construction and the most costly. While this route is known to have the preference of the Canadian and American commissioners from the outset, the decisive factor in its selection is no doubt the proximity of the route and greater usefulness for the movement of Canadian and United States troops to coastal points in the event of war in the Pacific.

The project was launched as one for the building of a tourist highway, which would run up northern British Columbia, the Yukon territory and into Alaska, with military supplies a secondary but not forgotten consideration. The course of war has changed the relative importance of first consideration now has to be with the route most advantageous for military supplies, and tourist interests take second place. It will have to be first and foremost, a military highway.

If this route is followed, Hualien will be the jumping off place, where the highway will leave present routes of travel and transportation and head into the wide National Highway at Hualien. The route already connected with Vancouver by Highway. The link between that point and Hualien is still a good many miles. Alberta has entertained a hope, without over-much encouragement, that the Alaska highway might run through the province instead of British Columbia, and have seen several peacetime advantages in this route. They have the satisfaction of knowing that if the Prince George-Hazelton route is followed, connecting links can be built from Alberta's highway system which will be of great value to the province direct highway access to Vancouver as well as to the Yukon. It will be necessary to build such cross-mountain links in order that the military units of the Alaska highway may be made complete.

Federal assistance may therefore be expected in extending the present highway westward from Jasper, and in giving the province direct highway "outlet" it has long desired.

An earthquake struck the mountain fields. More of Churchill's underground work no doubt.

If anyone hereabouts still doubts that Edmonton is air-minded he must have been among the minority of citizens who did not journey out to the airport Sunday afternoon.

While fewer outside tourists came to Canada this summer than last 1939, more than last summer. Parks, 172,000 more than last summer. Canada's air-mindedness has done their travelling at home in unusually large numbers.

Albertans who can remember the widespread complaints made last July because of the water in the city, that at one point on Vancouver Island 9.1 inches of water fell in 24 hours. In Alberta we get only about twice that much in a whole year.

Any sort of adequate or even formidable defence against nazi bombers has not yet been devised. The reason is not that with tragic certainty. The only effective course is to destroy the plants where the bombers are built and the airports from which they start. That is the object on which the R.A.F. is centering their attention. If the operations are less spectacular than bombing raids, they have the advantage that they will be deadly in the long run.

Lord Beaverbrook says the output of planes in Canada is "appreciable at present." It is necessary to have a training course needs planes, the R.C.A.F. needs planes, the R.A.F. needs planes, and Canada was not a country in which airplane construction is being treated as a considerable proportion one year ago. We had not up to that point built a single warplane of any type. This is not a matter of "moderate" production is a tribute to the progress that has been made, but a complaint that we have not done the impossible. "At present" are the key words which explain what Lord Beaverbrook meant.

From The News

By Harold L. Weir

Most amusing event of the past twenty-four hours is the attempt of Hamilton House and his small circle of friends to put the name of the interested friend into nomination again for the mayoralty of Montreal city.

Mr. Houde, as everyone remembers with satisfaction, is languishing in an internment camp for advising the people of Montreal to ignore national registration.

It has been our belief from the first that Mr. Houde's redneck act was not impelled by any desire to play politics, but by a desire to see that his own unwieldy person might be forgotten in the hurry-burry of war preparation.

His outbreak of August, therefore, was probably inspired by vanity. It was a bit of silly exhibitionism in the face of the belated major sought with a specious martyrdom as an alternative to oblivion.

His present move is a continuation of that flamboyant bid for attention. French-Canadian are to be revolutionized. Mr. Houde knows it perfectly well that he could not be re-elected mayor of Montreal.

He knows it would be a further effort to offer himself as a candidate. To invite people to vote for him would be to invite them to condemn his offense. And that would be intolerable to him.

This performance is much more tiresome than tragic. For Mr. Houde has neither the temperament nor the figure for convincing martyrdom.

Fiorelli H. La Guardia of New York is another major whose gaudy and volatility fit him to play politics. But Mr. La Guardia does not try it.

The chief magistrate of New York paid a visit to Detroit yesterday and was standing on the city hall steps he heard a bystander make an insulting remark. Mr. La Guardia stood forward and nearly shook his head.

Sometimes it is possible to define a man as one who, given the choice between his mouth and his hands as weapons of offense or defense, usually chooses his hands.

Informed European gossip takes the line today that Hitler is planning a widening of his axis of domination including Spain and more of the Balkan countries.

Bulgaria, for instance, might fall within the infamous orbit, not because her symbols are becoming too conspicuous, but because under Tzar Boris, she already has acquired a tradition of dictatorship.

It is interesting and instructive to examine the various moves and counter-moves which have driven all these threats into Hitler's unrelenting arms.

Italy is perhaps the most foolish of all the countries which have thrown themselves into the Nazi maelstrom. Mussolini has fed the deluded Italian an indigestible potage composed of empty promises and empty threats.

They dream an empty dream of restoring the grandeur of the Caesars, forgetting that the Caesars were not the kind of men who could be compared to the comparative superiority of the ancient Roman emperors.

In their absurd ambition to lead the world without the qualities of leadership which have degenerated into a band of petty thieves, hanging on the skirts of Hitler's legions and picking up what they can.

Nothing illustrates the fatuity of their delusion more poignantly than the fact that the Caesars were not the kind of men who could be compared to the comparative superiority of the ancient Roman emperors.

Japan is another nation that has hitched her wagon to Hitler's falling star because the Hitler methods appear to offer an opportunity for their racial ambitions to expand.

The Japanese people are still at close quarters with those who are only a few years behind them. They think that Hitler will divide the earth and that they will be the beneficiaries.

They forget that such is not the way of barbarism. Jinghis Khan would tolerate no rivals anywhere. Despoils in all ages have been the deluge of blood and of killing even their own sons.

Add to these self-seeking aims of the axis world the great seething force of discontent that simmers violently in the conquered countries of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and France and you have an imperial pot as hot as that which has boiled over, soon or late.

It has been evident since last spring that the present arrangement of the world is not only a temporary expedient, but a dangerous one. It is a dangerous one.

We may define the first phase as a temporary expedient, but a dangerous one. It is a dangerous one.

Athletic Club Junior Squad Holds First Workout At City Arena

With The Pin Busters

Fourteen teams played in the Ten Time 5 pin league Tuesday at Recreation Alley and Mrs. H. Robinson of the Buffers turned in the single high score, making 239 in her first game. Mrs. Hubert had a count of 106 for the best ten game score.

Rolla, Pringle, Hardwick and Chiswick played two straight. E. Wobergson of the Mutual Life team went on a scoring rampage in his second game in the tournament and checked up 200—one of the best single marks of the year. His first game was 197 and that was sufficient to give him double honors as well.

Chapman-Brewer and Muthala won their three games, the aggregate of the latter also being the best.

GOV'T MIXED LEAGUE
Of the 14 teams who played in the Government mixed group, School Bank Branch, Kings Printers and Agriculture and Commerce teams were the only three-game winners. Tony of the Compensation Board won both single and triple honors with his scores of 275, 211 and 180 for a total of 670.

In the Mercantile league Jim Hunter of Dawson Mines started off with a 275 and that was the best count made. Doug Harty of Calgary Brewing kicked in 275, 211 and 180 for a total of 670.

Blings and Brewster shot off the mark with the first named placing second in Taylor-Pearson's 210 for team aggregate.

SCHOOLBOY GETS 18 TOUCHDOWNS
ST. STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Oct. 23.—(AP)—They call him "Barney Welch" but he's a football team and here's why.

In five games he's played 200 minutes and scored 106 points. In one game he ran for 100 yards.

Other members of the St. Stephenville high school team have a combined total of 81.

Welch is the leading scorer with 102 seconds in a football uniform. He paced through broken fields for two-thirds of his 18 touchdowns. The others came on forward passes.

Montrealers To Quit Basketball
MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—(CP)—The Montreal Young Men's Hebrew Association, winners of the eastern Canadian senior basketball title last season, announced Tuesday night the association intends to withdraw from senior basketball for duration of the war.

"Four of the members of last season's eastern championship squad are in military service and along with the 'Y' has a soldier program which will not allow for practice hours for competitive teams," said Joe Caplan, chairman of the association's physical education committee.

The Montrealers based in three straight games in the Canadian final at Vancouver Maple Leafs.

Boss Lester Patrick Confident of Rangers

WINNIPEG, Oct. 23.—(CP)—New York Rangers are hockey champions of the world, they're intact from last season and they're young.

The confidence in the Ranger training camp is so inspiring manager Lester Patrick need no insurmountable obstacle to successful defence of the National League title and Stanley cup.

CANADIENS HAVE STRENUOUS DRILL
ST. HYACINTHE, Que., Oct. 23.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens spent the hours on the ice Tuesday in practice that Coach Dick Irvin called the "best yet" for the National Hockey League squad.

Left Winger Jack Adams, formerly of Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast League, was a casualty, needing four stitches to close a gash in his lip after a collision with Cliff Gougeon, red-headed Canadiens' defenseman.

Louise Trudel, a left winger from Edmonton, and defenseman Alex Sjugrath, two others who have been on the casualty list through injuries, returned to action Tuesday. Both he suffered his injury late last week. Sjugrath had a good impression on Irvin and is likely to get consideration for a defense post with the N.H.L. team.

He played last season with New Haven Eagles of the American League.

A football game was played in the morning. One of the teams was made up of the nine defensemen in the camp while the other was made up of forwards. The defensemen, with Connny Tully pitching, won 7-4 over the forwards, who had Joe Bennett of Edmonton and Trail, B.C., doing the hurling.

Coach Paul Has 40 Youngsters on Parade

Coach Reg Paul had a preview of what the 1940 edition of how the E.A.C. junior hockey team will shape up, out at the Arena Tuesday night, when the boys swarmed onto the ice at 6:30.

If numbers count for anything the Athletic Club should be well fortified when the league gets under-way for there were exactly 40 youngsters out for the preliminary center.

While several of last years' squad turned out for the practice, the majority were newcomers including a number of players from outside points. In addition there was an avalanche of elite youngsters who were looking for an approving nod from the coach.

Bill Maher, right wing for the E.C. last year, along with Doug Anderson who played on defense were taking their turns with the rest of the boys and Howe Hefling was between the posts for a while.

Several other familiar figures in the junior and juvenile circles also were trying to get their ice-feeling for the ensuing season. There were Ben Barker, Jack Jones, Jim Kilburn, Wally Berry, Dave Laroche, Al Groulx, Warren Keith, Ken Johnson, along with several others going through their paces.

Prominent amongst outsiders was Cronky of Columbia who is attending school in the city. Jim Simpson of Camrose and Jack McPherson of Red Lake, Johnathan of Vegreville, Robinson of Leduc and Ken Dalmeyer of Thorburn and Vern McDonald of Vegreville, also were there.

Amongst other Edmonton boys noticed were Harry Allen, Art Hoggan, Johnny Turner, Doug Stevenson, Graham Barker and Ed Hoffmann, all of whom are first time players.

Coach Paul worked the gang in relays for over an hour, making a change every few minutes in order to give all the boys plenty of opportunity to display their prowess. At the end of the practice the youngsters were put through a stiff skating drill.

Another workout has been called for Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

WINGS TO HELP CANTEEN FUND
DETROIT, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Manager Jack Adams announced Tuesday his Detroit Red Wings and their farm club, the Indianapolis Capitals, would accept their first ever "Wings to Win" benefit game Friday night for the canteen fund of the Red Cross canteen section.

The Red Wings, including Canadian, Dutch Hiller, had no approval removed. Kelly Macdonald underwent a serious stomach operation. Dave Kerr, Murray Patrick and Alex Shubert had elbow operations. Injured players were removed from the game and the Capitals' coaches, New and Mac.

ALL IN GOOD SHAPE
"Some of these boys were in precarious condition all last season," said Patrick. "Now they're all in good shape and we have a right to expect even better results."

The change in the team this year was appointment of Frank Bourcier as coach. One of the game's greatest centers for 12 years with the Capitals, Bourcier was assistant to Patrick last season but will now have full responsibility to direct the team from the bench.

Lester will act in an advisory capacity while devoting more time to the heavy office duties entrusted in operating Rangers and the farm teams, Philadelphia Ramblers in the American League and New York Rovers in the Eastern United States Amateur League.

Kerr, who won the Georges Vezina trophy last season as the N.H.L. goalie with the lowest number of goals scored against him, guards the net. Captain Art Coulter and Murray Patrick, Lester son, form one defense pair. Ott Heller and Babe Pratt the other.

NO FIRST STRING
Lester says he has no "first string" forward line, that the attacking combinations are equally effective. Neil Colville plays one line with brother Max on right wing and Shubert on left. Phil Watson is hooked on the right by Royce MacCall and on the left by Hiller. The third line has MacDonald and Pike, the fourth only two rookies last season, alternating on right wing. Cliff San Jose plays center and on left wing is Lester's older son, Lynn Patrick.

That, as Lester said, is "considerable" hockey team. Coulter is the oldest player at 31. Kerr and Heller are 30 and the others are in the 20's. They're a happy bunch of boys on the ice, well-conditioned, high in morale.

HAWK SQUAD GO FULL GAME
HIBBING, Minn., Oct. 23.—(CP)—Manager Paul Thompson divided Chicago Black Hawks into two squads Tuesday and sent them through a full time game for the first time.

The first game was 5-3. Goalies Paul Goodman and Sam Lo Presti were impressive despite the large score, making about 40 stops apiece. Hard checking and other strenuous defensive measures were prohibited, leaving the forwards a good chance to warm on the goalies.

The Hawks play their first exhibition game Sunday with St. Paul Saints, champions of the American Association.

DORAN IS FIRST LEAF CASUALTY

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 23.—(CP)—Doran, the first casualty of the National Hockey League, began training a week ago. He suffered a severe injury in his ankle. He was taken to hospital and will be out of action at least three weeks.

The accident occurred while Doran and Ted Hume, Leaf centre, were battling for the puck during a rugged practice session. Doran fell and his leg came in contact with Hume's skate.

Your Figure, Madame!

We're a bunch of summertime athletes. Come the first chill breeze, we hug the hearth and just sit around and get soft. We wonder why we have no pep and ratch click.

To keep in good physical form all winter, we have a better solution than an outdoor sport for every season.

EXTENSION OF RENT CONTROL MAY BE MADE

Hitherto Uncontrolled Areas May Come Under Administration

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—(CP)—Extension of rent control to hitherto uncontrolled areas may be made soon. Mr. Justice Martin, rent administrator, indicated today.

Worried against undue enhancement of rents have already been sent to landlords in a number of areas outside controlled zones. In controlled areas rents have been "frozen" at levels of last Jan. 1.

Delicate requests for rent control have been received by the war-gas and housing departments under which the rent administrator operates, from Hamilton, Ont., Calgary, and Prince Albert, Sask.

At the same time it was said the volume of complaints from Regina and Oshawa, Lindsay and Pembroke in Ontario has been sufficient to attract attention. Winnipeg city council discussions on rents are also being watched with interest.

Rent control was established last month in more than a dozen areas around the Dominion where wartime activity either in industrial life or the military brought congestion and crowding of housing facilities followed by complaints that rents were raising rents unduly.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Stock market closed 1940 in a slow but steady surge.
